CHARLOTTE, N. C. 28207

February 28,1974

Dr. Lawrence F. London, Curator of Rare Books,
University of North Carolina Library, Chapel Hill

Dear Dr. London,

Jim and I wish to give to the Library, as Henry Lewis mentioned to you, this 1783-published, leatherbound book that belonged to Joseph Graham, an original Trustee of the University and a member of the legislature that created it. He commanded the cavalry at the Battle of Charlotte, was a General associated with Andrew Jackson in the War against the Creek Indians; father of Gov. Wm. A. Graham, U.S.Congressman James Graham and Mary Graham Morrison whose husband founded Davidson College and was its first President (UNC 1818, and later an honorary degree); thus, the Morrison girls, Mesdames Stonewall Jackson, D.H.Hill, Alphonso Avery, Rufus Barringer,etc., were Joseph Graham's grand-daughters.

This book's chief interest is in the center pages where Graham and Dr. Morrison have listed their slaves, from "Jonas was born in the year 1769" to "Alice born Dec 23rd 1864", some listings on the actual pages of the book, others on pages tied in with string.

We are most grateful that there's a place where these records and The New Annual Register And General Repository Of History, Politics And Literature For The Year 1782 can be preserved.

Cordially yours,

Jane Morrison Moore

(for Mr. and Mrs. James O. Moore)

The Confeſſions of Rouſſeau, with the Reveries of a ſolitary Walker, publiſhed in French, in two volumes, 12mo. are a very extraordinary performance, and contains many particulars unfit for the public eye. The reader will find, indeed, ſome fine paſſages, and juſt and intereſting reflexions, but attended with the ſtrongeſt evidence of the great mental weakneſs, which this moſt ſingular man occaſionally exhibited.

They who are attentive to Dramatic criticiſm, and to the hiſtory of theatres, will find both entertainment and inſtruction in the Storia Critica de Teatri Antiqui e Moderni, or Critical Hiſtory of ancient and modern Theatres, publiſhed in one volume, 8vo. by Dr. Pietro Napoli Signorelli. The author has pointed out the diſtinctive merits of the Greek tragedians, and exhibited ſpecimens of their principal plays. He has given a good account of the Spaniſh and Italian theatres, from the revival of letters; but his account of the Engliſh and French theatres is more ſuperficial, and frequently inaccurate.

M. de Haller has publiſhed at Berne, in two volumes, 8vo. in the German language, an accurate account of all ſorts of Swiſs coins, with their reſpective intrinſic and nominal value, and alſo accounts of the cabinets and works in which they are found, with ſhort hiſtorical illuſtrations, adorned with plates.

A work, which will at leaſt afford ſome amuſement, has been publiſhed at Paris, by M. Le Grand d'Auſſy, in three volumes, 8vo. under the title of Hiſtorie de la Vie privée des François, &c. or Hiſtory of the Private Life of the French, from the origin of that people to the preſent time. In this publication we have an account of the vegetables, animal food, and liquors, of the ancient and modern French; of their eating furniture, ornaments of the table, feaſts and banquets, and particular cuſtoms and amuſements at meals; together with ſeveral curious diſſertations on the articles of fiſhing, hunting, gardening, and other objects relative to rural oeconomy. Three other volumes of this work are intended by the author.

Two volumes, in 8vo. have been publiſhed at Amſterdam of the Letters of the late learned Winckelmann, which abound with anecdotes and information relative to the arts, the artiſts, and ancient monuments diſcovered in his long reſidence in Rome. They alſo contain a variety of curious details concerning his life, and the means by which he acquired that knowledge in the works of antiquity for which he was ſo much celebrated.
